

Our pub.Weekly

Moira Kerstin Stamminger
People & Culture Manager

Exchange platform and news source across all departmental boundaries

Our pub.Weekly not only offers you the opportunity to gain insights into current business developments, get to know ongoing projects of other teams or to exchange information about the latest technical trends, it is also a central component of our corporate culture. We drive the development of pub. by communicating transparently and openly, creating opportunities for collaboration and promoting interactive exchange.

By bringing together all employees from the various departments, it breaks down silos and enables a more holistic view of the organization. This also helps to ensure that business decisions, for example, can be better understood by all employees equally. We have therefore decided to include the categories "Management report" and "Q&A" in our weekly structure.

So feel free to use the Q&A function in the team meeting to submit your question (anonymously if you wish). To ensure that we can adequately prepare for your question and that you receive the answers that will help you, we would like to ask you to always submit your question during the week before the upcoming Weekly.

It is still important to us to be able to use resources and potential more efficiently and to benefit as an organization from our wealth of ideas. This is largely fed by our interdisciplinary exchange. We can only grow as a team. So let's work together to achieve the organization's goals by sharing knowledge, experience and innovation. Each of us is the engine of this organization and a voice in our development process.

Our pub.weekly takes place every Monday from 11:15 - 12:00 in a hybrid setting. If you miss a meeting or are unable to attend, you can watch the recording at any time on the pub.hub landing page.

As we are constantly optimizing the pub.weekly structure, we are interested in your feedback.

You are welcome to send it to us directly or use the feedback function in Office Vibe. P&C is responsible for the organization and coordination of pub.Weekly.

We would like to provide you with the latest survey results, on the basis of which we have recently adapted the Weekly.

You and your team have topics that you would like to see in pub.weekly? Always with pleasure!

Please put the topics with time information in the "parking lot" on our shared planner board in teams and assign the task to the person presenting it. We will then get in touch with you to plan the details.

We generally allow a time slot of 10 minutes for specialist presentations. If, in your opinion, the 10 minutes are not sufficient for a topic, please contact us again.

Our pub.Weekly thrives on colorful, diverse, innovative and exciting contributions.
